

Canal Street Art Gallery Exhibition Opportunities 2025

Artist Representation

Much like its business model, Canal Street Art Gallery's version of artist representation is made "by artists, for artists". A visual artist's traditional goal of being hand picked for the exclusive privilege of representation is replaced with the system of hiring a promotional agent, much like a performing artist might do. Represented artists at Canal Street Art gallery each have the opportunity for a solo show, included once per year. Additional solo shows may be scheduled at half off exhibition fees. The Touring Exhibitions Program which exhibited most recently at Atlantic Gallery in New York City, is available to represented artists only. Additional promotion and sales come from the artist's page on the gallery's website, as well as a personal viewing room presenting headshots, quotes from the artist, along with pictures and videos of their artwork.
