Kim Grall, based in Westminster, Vermont, creates mixed media sculpture with foraged and harvested materials. Grall's current work uses gourds as both a sculptural object and a substrate. Most recently the artist is exploring encaustic with mixed media on wall hanging wood panels. The gourds Grall uses are grown by the artist from saved heirloom seed, seen through their entire life cycle intended to become art. The artist uses techniques such as pyrography, painting, and collage with additional materials including vines, leaves, seed pods, pigments and papers. Through this intimacy with her materials, Grall's work presents the concepts of utilitarian objects, sacred objects, mixed media sculpture, and fine art.

Canal Street Art Gallery is located at 23 Canal Street, in Historic Downtown Bellows Falls, Vermont, and is open Tuesday through Saturday 10:00am to 5:00pm, Sundays 11:00am to 4:00pm and the 3rd Friday of every month until 7:00pm.
